How The Name "Uncle Sam" Was Originated.

Do you know the origin of the title "Uncle Sam," as applied to the United States government?

It is an old story, but a good one, and particularly interesting in these warlike times.

Immediately after the declaration of war in 1812 Elbert Anderson, of New York, a contractor, visited Troy, where he purchased a large quantity of provisions. The inspectors for the government were Ebenezer and Samuel Wilson. The latter was more familiarly known as "Uncle Sam," and he superintended the work in person. On this occasion a large number of workmen were employed in overhauling the provisions purchased by the contractor for the army. The casks were marked A. E. U. S. This work fell to the lot of a facetious fellow in the employ of the Messrs. Wilson, who, on being asked by some of his fellow workmen the meaning of the mark for the letters "U. S." for United States were then almost entirely new to them), said "Uncle Sam" Wilson. The joke took among the workmen, and "Uncle Sam" himself being present, he was occasionally rallied by them on the increasing extent of his possessions. Many of the workmen soon followed the recruiting drum to the war, and their old joke on "Uncle Sam" Wilson accompanied them and gained favor rapidly until "Uncle Sam" was finally recognized as the materialization, in name at least, of the American government. It was regarded, even in those days, as every odd that this silly joke, which originated in the midst of beef, pork, pickle, salt and other edibles, should be the foundation of what eventually became the national cognomen.—Exchange.

Mt. Sterling Court.

June court-day was a dull one as far as cattle was concerned. There was about 350 cattle on the market, mostly cows and heifers; no good steers for sale. It is hard to give quotations, as so few cattle were weighed. The best steers sold at 4c; yearlings a shade higher; cows as high as 3½c; heifers 3 to 4 cents.

A good crowd attended and we noticed some buyers from other states.

Sheep were here in abundance. From what we could learn fully 5,000 started for this market, and from 2,000 to 3,500 were here yesterday. About 1,000 or 1,500 were sold on Saturday. The trade was brisk and there was very little trouble in disposing of any bunches that were desirable at satisfactory prices. Prices ranged from $2.15 per hundred for bucks to $3.25 for some extra ewes. Most of the sheep changed hands at 3 cents.

Mules sold fairly well. Good ones brought good prices; inferior mules a drag.

Gentry Bros., of Lexington, bought 10 or 12 good mules at from $80 to $100. Fletcher Mann, of Cynthiana, bought a lot of mules at from $75 to $100. T. I. Davis, of Winchester, bought 10 or 12 horses at from $50 to $100. Business at livery stables was medium.—Mt. Sterling Advocate.

Important Notice to Public Officials Who Execute Pension Vouchers.

Through the request of F. L. Churchill, special examiner Bureau of Pensions at Richmond, Ky., we publish below copy of a circular letter for the benefit of pensioners and officers who execute pension vouchers:

Recent investigation had by the Bureau of Pensions to ascertain the methods employed by public officials in executing pension vouchers, has demonstrated an almost total disregard of the laws and regulations governing the subject.

It is clearly evidenced that the illegal, lax, indifferent and perfunctory procedure now extant has become a menace to the proper and safe conduct of the affairs of this Bureau, so far as it relates to the payment of pensions, and special efforts are contemplated to correct the existing abuses.

While it is believed that many officials who assist in the execution of pension vouchers have no conception of their criminal liability in the premises, it is equally certain that many others to secure an advantage in the numerical number of their clientele, knowingly and wilfully resort to violations of the law.

To the end that the former class may profit by this notice, this circular is issued.

There can be no justification in the prevalent haste and laxity existing in many offices, by which post-dating, false certification, false claim and stock witnesses have become a factor in the administration and acknowledgement of pension vouchers.

It is the intention of this Bureau, where the facts warrant such action, to institute criminal proceedings against the parties who indulge in these illegal and irregular practices and they are warranted accordingly.

By following strictly the instruction printed on each voucher, the matters complained of may be entirely remedied.

Very respectfully,
H. Clay Evans, Com. Pensions,

Hon. T. C. Dickinson, of 1211 O. St. N. W., Washington, D. C., the financial agent of the Black Diamond System, who has been in London, England, in the interest of the proposed road, writes Col. Albert E. Boone that he arrived home on the 7th inst., and desires a conference with President Kirkby and Col. Boone at an early date. This is the second time Mr. Dickinson has come from London to hurry along the promoters in getting the work ready for inspection by the expert engineer, Sir Thomas I. Tancerd. The latter writes Col. Boone, under date of May 25, "I will at once leave London to join you in Washington or any other place you may wish." So we may confidently expect construction to begin at no very distant day. Let the people on line do their part in helping the promoters to perfect the franchise, and the road will soon be built.—Sharpsburg World.

More coffee is used in the United States than any other country, the annual consumption being not far from 450,000,000 pounds, for which American importers pay about $90,000,000 to the growers.

The railways of this country show unprecedented earnings for the month of May, the gross earnings of 112 roads which have reported being in round numbers $44,504,000, a gain of 13.7 per cent. over May, 1897.

The General Association of the Baptists of Kentucky in session at Hopkinsville, passed resolutions urging the trustees of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary to discharge Dr. W. H. Whitsitt as professor in the seminary and withdrawing their support to said seminary so long as Dr. Whitsitt is connected with that institution.

Private Harry Jackson, of Company K, Second New Jersey Regiment, claims to be and probably is, the tallest soldier in the volunteer camp. He stands 6 feet $6\frac{1}{2}$ inches in the air, but he finds consolation in the thought that even if he were sixty feet high the Spanish marksman couldn't hit him.

The first year of the civil war cost the government less than $400,000,000. The first year of the war with Spain is estimated to cost $600,000,000. We have already spent a good part of this, and we have not made progress enough in Cuba to send food to a single starving reconcentrado, but our warships have unloaded several thousands of tons of iron around the Spanish fortifications with very little substantial advantage to our cause. We may expect better results when the army co-operates with the navy. —Louisville Dispatch.

The following amendments to the constitution of Kentucky Baptists passed that body at its recent session at Hopkinsville, and the same will meet with the approval of every christian in that church:

"No church shall be entitled to representation in this Association which retains in its membership any person who is engaged in the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes—that no messengers be received from any churches which retain in their membership members who buy and drink intoxicating liquors as beverages; and that the board be forbidded to receive any money from such churches, or from churches which retain in their fellowship liars or faultfere, or men of impure lives; also that our board be forbidden to receive money from such churches."

Things to Remember.

He who is unkind can at best but fail.

A broken promise is always hard to mend.

That arm is weakest which is raised against God.

Some men serve their country best after they are dead.

Never make a promise that it will not pay you to keep.

High and noble aim makes a brave and generous man.

Kindness is an element which makes all men useful.

'Twere better never to have lived than die and leave no worthy act behind.

He who lives without a well-defined purpose, dies without a well-promised reward.

The language we use every day is a pretty fair index to the life we live every day.

Truth has always had its defenders, labor its rest, beauty its admirers, and charity its sure reward.

'Twere better to be a smile wasted upon a dying beggar than to be a crown used to adorn the brow of the world's greatest monarch.

Our True Friend.

"Our regiment," the Second Kentucky, and the Ninth New York are great friends at Chickamauga camp. It will be remembered that when a negro member of the First Maine, backed up by some of his comrades, attempted to bulldoze the Second Kentucky, the Ninth New York joined in with regiments from Missouri and Arkansas in cheering the Kentucky boys. The friendly feeling that exists was shown by a striking and stirring incident Saturday. A dispatch from Chickamauga says:

"An incident occurred in camp to-day that was of more than ordinary interest. It was an exchange of courtesies between a Kentucky Regiment and one from New York. Just after sundown the band of the Second Kentucky regiment struck up "Yankee Doodle," and accompanied by many of the soldiers paraded through the camp of the Ninth New York. The New Yorkers speedily caught the sentiment and broke out in wild cheers and hurrahs. Caps and coats were waved and swung around the heads for the moment completely rid of all sane thoughts by the wild enthusiasm of a Kentucky regiment band playing "Yankee Doodle." "Yankee Doodle" was exhausted and "Rally Round the Flag" set the New Yorkers again to cheering. The band reached the utmost limits of New York's camp and wheeled to return, when suddenly there burst upon the air the glorious strains of "Dixie." Out from a cover behind the tents came the band of the New York Regiment playing the air that makes all Southern blood and Southern hearts quicker. Then it was that the Kentuckians gave evidence of insanity. Rebel yell broke out in terrific volume of sound completely drowning the strains of music.

Following "Dixie" the New Yorkers played "My Old Kentucky Home" and cheered and cheered. Never before have two regiments shown such brotherly love as the Ninth New York and Second Kentucky. Taking them as an example the North and South are united by a tie that nothing can sever. The New York boys exert themselves to the utmost to please our boys and nothing is too good for "old Kentuck," and the Kentucky boys keep open house constantly for the boys from New York.—Cynthiana Democrat.
